RoughRiders Foundation Partnering with Taylor Hooton Foundation to host "Hoot's Chalk Talk"

We have teamed up with the Taylor Hooton Foundation to host "Hoot's Chalk Talk," presented by Tye Williams Financial Services and Leonard Davis Enterprises, at Dr Pepper Ballpark on Thursday, July 9th. Hoot's Chalk Talk is a baseball clinic and information session for young people where they will learn sound, ethical, scientific and proven methodologies employed by professional athletes in their training. In addition, RoughRiders coaches and players will instruct participants on alternatives to performance enhancing drugs. We are excited to be the first Minor League ballpark to host a clinic in support of such a worthwhile organization.
